

PAPER FOOTBALL

how to make the football

The object of the game is to score touchdowns

To get a touchdown, you must flick the ball with your finger and have the ball stop with part of it sticking over the table. That is 1 point.

Players take turns, one flick each back and forth until someone scores.

If you get a touchdown, you get to "kick" a field goal. Your opponent points his index fingers together with his thumbs up to make the goal posts, and then you kick it through the posts. To attempt your field goal, stand the football on the table and hold it with one index finger. Then, flick it with the other hand. If you're successful, you get another point.

First player to 15 points wins.
